Thousands of agents are relying on QuotesAuction.com to supply them with qualified and legitimate insurance leads.

North Hollywood, CA March 4, 2008 -- QuotesAuction.com provides thousands of agents with qualified insurance leads every month. Through the use of a state of the art leads capture and verification system, QuotesAuction.com has the ability to offer leads to interested agents at an affordable price.

Insurance agents of all types are finding that buying leads is a great way to increase business. Charles Burton, an insurance agent in Memphis, Tennessee said, "If you are purchasing internet insurance leads and not using QuotesAuction.com you are making a big mistake. The leads I have received are by far the highest quality in the marketplace. My closing ratio is substantially higher than other vendors."

When buying real time insurance leads, agents are interested in both quality and closing ratio. This helps to ensure that the leads are verified, and that more times than not they turn into sales. By purchasing from a company that verifies each lead, it helps to ensure that quality is kept at a high standard.

Sentry Insurance agent Bill Bokern has personally experienced the simple benefits of working with QuotesAuction.com. "They (quotes) are really making my job easier and more fun."

For further information or to purchase leads, visit <https://www.quotesauction.com/sign-up.htm> . New participants qualify to receive $200 worth of free insurance leads for activating an account.
